HAVAS' AGENCY

Dublin 5th.

Terrible riots at Newbrook: Desperate tumult which police were unable to put down, and military called out.

London 6th.

Parliament opened to-day. Speech from throne espresses hope of speedy settlement of Turco-Grecian question, and promises to bring Afghan war to an end by giving up Candahar; asks extraordinary powers for Government to put down disorder in Ireland, and promises Bills to improve condition of tenants and their relations with their landlords.

London 6th (evening)

Government has ordered arrest of principal leaders of Land League and their indictment for conspiracy against the Queen's Government.

GOVERNMENT RAILWAY GUARANTEES.

The system of building railways by means of a Government interest guarantee on the capital may be considered as finally played out in the Plate. It was, perhaps, the most artificial of all means to construct an unnecessary railway to help a concessionaire, and, although two of our greatest trunk lines were built on this plan, the traffic proved, in a few years, sufficient to emancipate the Government from all responsibility on one line, whilst on the other the earnings now are ample to cover everything, and we may look for a refunding of some of the public money paid by the Treasury to the shareholders. There is, however, one railway built on the guarantee system which, at least in the present generation, must always be dependent on the Government guarantee for its dividend: we refer to the Eastern Argentine, a line that owes its existence far less to the demands of trade or local commerce than to the exploitation of Sr Montravel, the original concessionaire, whose connection with the 'Caja de Credito' and other such enterprises proved as disastrous to this market as his concession is an ascertained loss to the country. About one million sterling has been sunk in the construction of this railway, a sum quite sufficient to buy up the whole country through which it runs. The shareholders are, of course, innocent of the antecedents of the concession, and we are quite willing to admit, would never have subscribed or bought a share but for the Government guarantee; but their recent step, in the shape of a vote of censure on the Argentine Government and of warning to the London Stock Exchange was, to say the least, ill-advised, and invests with still blacker colors an enterprize that everyone regrets. We know of no country that has worked harder and more successfully to sustain its credit both at home and abroad than this; spite of war, crisis, bad seasons and revolution the country has paid its way on obligations which form the touchstone of a nation's credit—namely, its bonds and coupons, Railway guarantees, although equally obligatory, do not enter into the same category, and hence it is that from one cause or other these obligations have been postponed, and we find that on the railway under consideration there is now a balance due by the Government so large that to many it will seem greater than what the very line itself is worth.

One of the shareholders of the Eastern Argentine Railway, in a very sensible letter, published in the London papers, proposed that the debt due by the Argentine Government to the shareholders should be funded in a five per cent. stock; and the arrangement seems to us so excellent that we hope it will be brought under the notice of the Minister of Hacienda, Sr. Cortinez, but to our view the Argentine Government has but one course left, and that is to pay off the balance due to the shareholders and at once expropriate the line according to the provisions of the concession. The Eastern Argentine Railway is too slender an enterprise to support an expensive directory in London with handsome offices, secretary, clerks, &c.: all these expenses and salaries have to be paid by the Argentine Government, and the sooner they are done away with the better. Last year the shares of this company were selling at less than 30 per cent. of their expressed par value, but now they have risen so much that the slightest effort to buy the stock would at once put them at par. Whether at par, discount or premium, the Government has incurred so great a liability by its seven per cent. guarantee, that the only proper course to adopt is to expropriate the line and then work it for Government account on a much cheaper scale than at present. The shareholders have certainly done the country a great service by their impatient vote. Numerous applications for railway guarantees are still pending before Government, and the notice of the Eastern Argentine Directors to the London Stock Exchange, it is to be hoped, if not attended to by the Stock Exchange, will at least be attended to by Congress and Government. Minister Cortines, who only the other day paid to this Company $ f.120,000 on account of the guarantee might have expected a little more consideration from the board, owing to the war and heavy expenses that the Government had to meet. If the railway were in Turkey or Egypt, the shareholders would have had to wait longer for even the $ f.120,000 just paid them on account; but, we repeat, after the action of the London Board, the Government has but one proper course left, and that is to expropriate the line according to the terms of the concession.

That it will be the interest as well as the convenience of these Eastern Argentine Directors to withdraw their note to the London Stock Exchange cannot be much doubted, since the Argentine Minister of Hacienda is so much offended at the conduct of the board, that so long as is Minister, he has publicly stated not one penny will be paid to the Company until the note in question is withdrawn. The step taken by the board was most ill-advised, and it is to be regretted, as the fortunes of this Company were coming round, and the shares so rapidly improving; they were a few months ago at £7; £16.10 they are quoted now. The debentures that were at a discount are now at 10 prem. All this great improvement in a stock that for years has been so neglected, should have restrained the board from a step that even their rights as creditors cannot justify.

THE RACES.

Very few people attended Thursday's races at Palermo. The prizes were small and offered but little excitement. There were several ladies on the stand and some hundred well-known turfites. The weather was simply delightful, and the wind was most favorable.

First Race, one round—Prize $3500, for criollo horses.
1. Pepa, S Mendoza
2. Try-Once, H Romero
3. Resuscitado, J E Wilmot

Time 2 min 12 sec. Betting, Pepa against the field.

The favorite took the lead, was never collared, and won easily by two lengths. A bad third. Pepa came in first in spite of an accident to the jockey: one rein broke as he turned the corner.

2nd Race, half-round—Prize $5,500, for mestizo horses.
1. Centinela, J M Campos
2. Chiche, P Sicouret
3. Huerfana, E Casey

Time 57½ secs. Favorite, Centinela and Chiche, got off together, but at the first curve soon drew clear and won at a canter; dead heat for second place between the Chiche and Huerfana.

Third Race, 2 rounds—Prize 4400 for criollo horses.
1. Comadreja, L Alvacez.
2. El Pobre, E G Gahan.
3. Inconnu, E Torres.
4. Chiquilin, A C Ponce
5. Criollo, J Gonzalez.
6. Hernani, A Debrey.

Time first round 2.32, second round 4.43. This was the race of the day, and betting was heavy on Comadreja and El Pobre. They got off to a level start, but all the horses were lifted hard held. Inconnu soon held a commanding lead, but in front of the stand Comadreja rushed up to him and led until the round and a half when all closed, but Comadreja again drew clear and won hands down at a canter; El Pobre second; Inconnu half a length behind 3rd.

Fourth Race, for mestizos—Price an object of art, ½ round.
1. Otelo, R Lanus.
2. Oportunista,

Time 1.1, betting 2 to 1 on Oportunista. A good start, but Oportunista soon took the lead, looking all over a winner, but in the straight, Otelo challenged, took the lead and won hard held by 2 lengths.

It is said that Oportunista was interfered with by a stray pony, that had somehow managed to gain access to the course.

5th Race, half-round—Prize $8,0000, for mestizos.
1. Pincen, E V Casares
2. Reina del Monte, F B Bosch

Time 3 min 6 sec. Betting, 5 to 2 on Pincen.

A very fast and good race. Both horses got off together, but before a third of the journey was run the favorite drew clear, was never afterwards approached, and won at a canter.

Sixth Race, one round—Prize $5000.
1. Mocito, J M Campos
2. Hidalgo, S Casey

Time 2 min. 7 sec. Betting, 5 to 1 on Hidalgo.

Almost immediately on the fall of the flag the favorite rushed to the front, holding a lead of several lengths. On approaching the half-round post, however, Mocito began to draw up, and, challenging the favourite, gradually wore him down, cantering home in an easy manner by 3 lengths, which might have been thirty. The race proved a surprize to many, and much money changed hands.

LATEST FROM AUSTRIA.

Vienna, November 17th.

Since the destruction of Lisbon in 1755 no earthquake of such destructive power as that which a few days ago rendered the city of Agram, in Croatia, almost inhabitable, has visited Europe. A number of buildings, the largest and most solidly built in the town, fell in, church towers were shaken so much they must needs be demolished to prevent further mischief, and of the 1,600 houses forming the city not one was left entirely unscathed. The loss of property was first calculated at about three millions, but when more minute calculations have been made, the sum will probably turn out to be a far more formidable one. This earthquake, following in little more than a year upon the disaster of Szegedin, has inflicted a terrible disproportion of calamity upon the sister kingdom of Hungary.

On Monday a demonstration took place, which was most imposing, and is of such importance to the preservation of the constitution in Austria, that we cannot pass it over in silence. More than three thousand men, drawn from the wealthier classes and from all the different Crown lands, met in the largest assembly hall in Vienna, to protest against the internal policy of the present Government. The Cabinet's pretext for reconciling the different national elements of the Empire was the cause of the discord between the different nationalities becoming more vehement than it ever was before. All the minor nationalities are eager to encroach upon the German element. The Germans, of all Austrian subjects, are the most hardworking, those who really contribute most largely to the State expenditure, and yet withal are the foremost to defend national interests, in time of peace or war. It was the German section of the population which founded the united Empire, and it cannot allow the small nationalities to destroy the work which they had no part in achieving. The resolutions of the meeting all tended towards the one end of maintaining the Empire's unity, and they were voted unanimously and enthusiastically. One of the immediate consequences of the assembly will be the reorganisation of the German democratic party, and a programme has already been prepared. The first proposal is to introduce a bill which determines the rights of the nation and that of the different nationalities; which proclaims the unity of the State, and declares the German language to be the national language of the Austrian Empire; which allows Galicia a position of its own, similar to that which Hungary admits for Croatia. The scheme put forth contains a proposal that the institution of the delegations should cease altogether, so that the Reichsrath may recover its influence over foreign affairs. The right of election is to be extended, the legislation upon taxes is to be reformed in such a manner that the large landed proprietors and most wealthy holders of personal property should no longer be specially privileged. Then, it is urged, the alliance with Germany is to be maintained and furthered, a customs union, and an equal currency standard with Germany is advocated, and finally, the emancipation and real independence of the nations of the Balkan Peninsula are to be secured.

BRITISH RESIDENTS BALL.

The Committee desire to take the earliest opportunity of offering their warmest thanks to the ladies and gentlemen who so kindly sent bouquets and baskets of flowers with which to adorn the theatre.

They are also anxious to avail themselves of this opportunity to apologize to all those whose invitations may not have reached them in good time, owing to causes quite beyond the control of the Committee, but mainly because of the limited time allowed for the errangements, and the many difficulties to overcome.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

The Royal Mail steamer Tamar sails this afternoon for England. The young Princes send home by this steamer, to their mother, H.R.H. the Princess of Wales, the magnificent collection of skins given them as a 'recuerdo' by President Roca.

Our Flores subscribers got no papers on Thursday morning and were 'dancing mad' in consequence. All we can say is that they were despatched as usual from our office; but the P.O. may have sent them to Mellincue or Mendoza.

There is news from Europe to December 12th. Agitation in Ireland stiffer than ever. Greece making tremendous preparations for war. Serious rows between British and Spanish soldiers near Gibraltar.

A considerable portion of the fashionable population is still suffering from 'ball on the brain,' and the great entertainment is the sole topic amongst the fair members of society, most of whom have to tell of how one or other of the Princes was 'within an ace' of asking them to dance. The 'incidents' of the great ball are really so numerous that we cannot possibly find space to refer to them; but we give in another column a list of those who were present. The Princes said farewell to President Roca in the state box, before they left the ball. On Wednesday, at 3 o'clock, they came into town from Belgrano, and visited the Provincial Bank, the London and River Plate Bank, the British Hospital, the Hypothecary Bank and some other places. At 5 o'clock they embarked at the Catalinas Mole. Prince Victor, as he jumped into the Elk's gig, declared that B. Ayres was the jolliest place he had yet visited and that he was sorry he could not stay a week longer. Sir Horace Rumbold took leave of their R.H. on the Mole head. It is now said that the Flying Squadron will not leave Montevideo till to-morrow morning, and that there is a ball to-night on board the Admiral's ship, the Inconstant, or the Bacchante, on board which the Royal middies are serving. All the ladies say they hope some other Royal or Imperial Princes will soon pay Buenos Ayres a visit. With the exception of the British and some of the Russian Princes, the rest of the scions of sovereignty in Europe confine their travels to pottering about the Continent, which is a grievous error. A future Emperor or King should see all he possibly can of the world while he is young. The Prince of Wales has seen more of the earth than any other heir to a throne on it, and the advantages of this are obvious. European Princes should travel more, and we hope to see them here by the dozen in future, and balls without end in their honour, to please the ladies.

The anxiety for news from the West Coast yesterday was tremendous. The Protesta's telegram, with the rumour of a Chilian defeat at Chorillos, added fuel to the flame, although few attached much importance to it, and the prevalent belief is that Lima must fall. A day or two more may settle the question, but we do not think it will, as it is hard to suppose that the Peruvians, even if beaten in the fight outside the city, will surrender it, after all their patriotic resolves, till their last man and last cartridge are gone: the invaders will hardly try to make a Plevna rush and take it by assault, but will probably surround it, and settle down to a regular siege and bombardment, which will spin out the struggle for another month or two. At no previous period of the war has public excitement run so high here respecting it. The Protesta's bulletin of yesterday reads funny. Lima has been left to a 'cuerpo de estrangeros.' Does this mean evacuation? Many people think so.

It was so painfully hot on Thursday that few persons ventured out of doors till the sun o'er the beach was declining. The races at the Palermo Hippodrome were thinly attended.

A friend from Carmen de Areco tells us that the camps, cattle and sheep in that district now look 'inmejorable,' Mr. Archy Craig's alfalfa fields are the sight of the district, and worth a long journey to see. No danger of shortness of food in winter on Mr. Craig's estancia.

Mr. Murphy's 'fete champetre' at Marcos Paz to-morrow is almost as much talked about as the Princes' ball. The invitations are very numerous, and we hear it will be a splendid affair. Those who are fools enough to be late for the 9 o'cloch train from Parque station will also be late for both 'champetre' and champagne.

The Rev. James Smith will preach to-morrow at Mr. Shennan's estancia Negrette, and will visit round Ranchos on Monday.

There was a duel at Belgrano some mornings since between a 'cronista' and an unkind subscriber who played a prank on him by giving him some false news. The 'cronista' pinked his man. Let this be a solemn warning to people playing off larks on hard-working 'cronistas.'

Number 35,999 won the £100,000 prize in the Christmas Lottery at Madrid. Who has it?

We have the Panama Star and Herald of November 25th. It contains a flattering critique on Mr M G Mulhall's book 'The Progress of the World,' which it pithily describes as 'a statistical mine of wealth.' There is no news whatever from the Isthmus. The Canal shares are going off like hot cakes at Paris and Berlin, and there seems now no doubt as to the great work being carried out.

We have to thank Messrs Turdera and Molina, of 103 Calle Piedad, for a copy of their beautifully got-up Almanack for 1881. This firm makes it a point to do things well and cheaply.

We have beaten all our news-agent friends into a cocked-hat in reference to Lord Beaconsfield's new book Endymion. We had its three volumes on our table on Wednesday morning last. In style it resembles Vivian Grey rather than any of the Earl's later works. 'Disraeli the younger' figures in its pages, which also contain sketches drawn with a vivid and biting pen of the evergreen Lord Palmerston, Lord John Russell and the late Emperor of the French, then Prince Louis Napoleon. The action takes place about the period of the Chartist disturbances of 1848. The work has been sold for the comfortable sum of £10,000. The London booksellers and circulating libraries have already subscribed for 7,000 copies of the first edition of 20,000. Mudie alone takes 3,000 copies, paying the full price of £1 2s. 6d. for each, the Longmans having refused, in view of the large price they pay for the manuscript and of the public eagerness to get an early glimpse of the work, to make any abatement from these terms. Lord Beaconsfield proposes to continue this story, and make the sequel a sort of social and political history of the events of the last 25 years.

The masquerade balls were poorly attended on Wednesday and Thursday nights. The weather is too hot for the can-can, and the mask market is very dull.

Burgos and Co., who have the grand shop in Calle Florida, have won a prize at the Brussells Exhibition, for Argentine gloves. Jouvin had better look out.

San Nicolas passed a rather uneasy night of it on Saturday last, as it rained lightning until daybreak. Seven houses were struck; but we are happy to say that, if the local undertaker was heartless enough to anticipate any increase of business from the state of the weather, he was disappointed, as not a soul was killed. In Rosario they had the same extraordinary weather.

The Rosario Municipality are about to make another effort to raise the wind, although their revenue is already hypothecated for fully two years to come, on account of previous loans. Who will lend them a stiver?

There was a very active business in g to-day, and prices closed 15 cents over the opening price; the cash sales were 160,500, and those for the end of the month 763,000, selling up as high as 29.15, and closing at 29.10. It was generally said that the houses are now buying gold, and the brokers who bought for a rise very quietly getting out of their purchases. The whole market centres on Lima, and as the impression is general that the place will be taken by the Chilians, speculators in gold buy for a rise. It may, however, turn out as it has often before that the event will be over speculated on, and when the news come, comes the collapse.

The Protesta published a boletin which amounted to the Peruvian army having retired from Lima and preparing to fight on the River's bank. Lynch is now Chilian Commander-in-Chief, and Villagran, they say, to be tried by Court Martial. All news coming, however, is from Chilian source.

Cedulas rule very quiet at 86¾. Nat. Bank Shares extremely weak at 70½, leaving large losses to holders, and they say at the meeting there will be a push made to bear the Bank shares the sucursales, and in fact the whole concern.

Treasury bills ex. div. 96½ buyers, and Bonos at their usual figure 99⅝.

The rise in gold will help the wool market, still we can report no rise in prices, although we heard of some sales from deposit yesterday.

To-day Gov. Romero had a long interview with President Roca and Minister Cortinez; affairs of the capital we suppose.

Messrs W Gowland & Co, announce the great sale of the saved cargo ex Margaretha; a most valuable salvage, we hear there are 250 cases of splendid furniture, Mr Lisandro Billinghurst's great auction of sheep at Gorostiago is the talk of the whole market; whoever wants sheep should not miss this important sale.

Exchange was done to-day at same rates. The Prov. Bank exchange committee will be named on Monday; we hear that the Bank holds 1,300,000 pats gold, and 3½ million pats gold in London, and that the gold is to be brought out.

The Tamar clears to-morrow. Mr Nash, the renowned cattle importer; leaves in her, the good that Nash has done this country will not be buried with his bones.

At afterhours gold took a jump, too many buyers from outside; prices rose to 29.45, at which price about 80,000 pats sold, then some 200,000 pats sold at 29.40, and at 5 o'clock prices had dropped to 29.25, sellers for to-morrow.

Exchange has also dropped; bills on London passed this afternoon at 49⅜, and something done at ⅜, and on Antwerp a large business reported at 5.29.

It seems that some very unfavorable telegrams came from Europe to-day and were talked of on Change, the wool auction at Havre begins to-morrow and a further fall is expected.

At the Once this morning about 6,000 ar. wool sold and sales easier, owing to the rise in gold, 2 carts wheat sold at 170.

At the Custom House to-day a very heavy business going on and large quantities of merchandise despatched; as the excise tax is now abolished, the almaceneros have begun to despatch freely.

The following very fresh returns a tramways in the United Kingdom are offic and cannot fail to interest this market, t greatest tramway city in the whole world a cording to Mr Guerrico's tables two years ago:

"A Parliamentary paper has been recently issued containing a return to the House of Commons of street and road tramways authorised by Parliament, showing the amount of capital authorised, paid-up, and expended, the length of tramway authorised, and length open for the public conveyance of passengers down to the 30th day of June, the number of passengers conveyed, the number of miles run by cars, the receipts, expenditure, and net receipts during the year ended on the 30th day of June, 1880, together with the number of horses, engines, and cars at the date. From these returns it appears that the year ended the 30th of June, 1880, there was a total of capital authorised of £9,210,756 paid-up, £5,691,669; expended, £5,665,465; and a length of 368 miles open for public traffic. The total number of passengers carried was 173,067,103; the gross receipts were £1,342,933; the working expenses, £1,113,094, leaving a balance of £229,839 as net receipts."

We gave in our last the report of the melancholy shipwreck off Spezia, of a vessel crowded with Italian emigrants for the Plate; the affair is indeed a truly sad one and the following further particulars we find in the papers received to-day—

Further particulars as to the disastrous collision which occurred off Spezia on the 24th inst have been received at Lloyd's. The Ortigia, it appears, had left Genoa at 11.30 p.m. on the 23d inst, with a crew of 44 men and 36 passengers. The Uncle Joseph had about 800 tons merchandise and 305 persons, including emigrants and crew, some of the former comprising whole families going out to Buenos Ayres, via Marseilles, by the Berlin steamer. The total number of lives saved is said to be 55, of which 23 belonged to the ship; so that the total loss of life may be put down at 250. The survivors of the crew of the Uncle Joseph state that about 3 a.m., when off Spezia, a tremendous crash was heard, and it was found that a large steamer had run into the Uncle Joseph, striking her amidships and cutting her down to the water's edge. The crew and passengers rushed on deck, and some of them succeeded in climbing to the bows of the Ortigia; but the latter backed astern, and as the vessels parted the water rushed in through the open side of the Uncle Joseph, and she sank in less than eight minutes. The sea which was quite smooth at the time, was then covered with a struggling mass of human beings. It is said that only one small boat could be got out by those on board the Ortigia a few lives being saved by the means. The Ortigia herself received serious damage to her cutwater and plater at the port bow, and probably owes her safety to her watertight bulkhead. The captain, Dacombe, of the Uncle Joseph is among the drowned. An investigation as to the cause of the disaster is being held."

Mr Durand, in his important circular for the mail, gives the following:—

"During the fortnight the market has remained quiet, owing to scanty arrivals and the European limits being still 8 or 10 dollars under the market price. Although exchange on Europe is more favorable, and holders have made some slight concessions, there is little change from the prices ruling last month. The wools coming in latterly are far inferior to those received in October and November. Carding wool has been most in demand; combing kinds neglected. The Havre auctions, in a fortnight more, will decide the future of wool here. Stocks in deposit still increasing. Deficit in export of bales to Dec. 12,120 bales. In 1879 it was 57,061 bales; in 1880 41,911 bales. The prices ruling are—
